Section I. Laws of the East Kingdom

A. Body of Laws

All Laws not listed in East Kingdom Law are repealed. Only the Laws listed herein along with the Governing Documents of the Society for Creative Anachronism, Inc. are in effect in the East Kingdom.

B. Crown's Word

The Crown's word has the force of Law except where it conflicts with East Kingdom Law or the Governing Documents of the Society.

C. Laws and Edicts

1. Laws may be enacted, amended, or repealed only by The Crown, after consultation with the Curia Regis. Once enacted, Laws remain part of East Kingdom Law until amended or repealed.
2. Edicts are issued by The Crown. They last for the duration of the Reign only, and may not repeal or suspend East Kingdom Law.
3. Laws and Edicts take effect upon announcement at an event and publication in Pikestaff.
4. Any changes to East Kingdom Law must be received by the Kingdom Chronicler no later than thirty days after the Curia Regis at which the changes were decided. Changes received after this deadline will not be published and therefore will not take effect.
5. The Kingdom Chronicler may not publish any changes to East Kingdom Law without the signatures of the Sovereign, Consort, and Kingdom Seneschal.

D. Current Version Maintenance

The current version of the East Kingdom Law will be maintained by the Kingdom Seneschal including a Table of Contents and Index and made available on the Kingdom webpage.

E. Official Language

The official written language of the East Kingdom is English. There is nothing to prohibit or prevent Laws, policies, reports, or other materials from being translated into other languages, but in case of discrepancies between the original English documents and any translations, the English language version will take precedence and serve as the official version.

Section II. The Crown

A. Duties and Powers

1. The Crown must know and uphold East Kingdom Law and the Governing Documents of the Society.
2. The Crown will chair the Curia Regis.
3. The Crown must attend Their Coronation, The Crown Tourney to determine Their Heirs, and the Coronation of Their Heirs.
4. No Sovereign or Consort may hold any Office or Court Appointment, with the exception of the position of Territorial Baron or Baroness, at any time during Their Reign. Any such Office or Appointment, with accompanying files, must be turned over to a deputy or successor before Coronation.
5. Within one month following the Coronation of their successors, the former Crown will relinquish all Royal files in their possession, either to the new Crown or to the Kingdom Archivist as appropriate.
6. The Crown may oversee treaties between the East and other Kingdoms according to the following procedures.
 - a. The Sovereign, Consort, Crown Prince, and Crown Princess of the East Kingdom must all specifically agree, in writing, to the wording of a proposed treaty.
 - b. The Royalty must then consult with no fewer than six Royal Peers of Ducal or County rank who reside in the East Kingdom regarding the wording of the proposed treaty. A list of the Royal Peers thus consulted will be kept on file with the Kingdom Seneschal.

- c. If, after consulting with the Royal Peers, The Crown chooses to alter the wording of the proposed treaty, the process will begin again.
 - d. To be enacted, a treaty must be signed by the Sovereign and Consort of the East Kingdom. The treaty may also be signed by any other parties as deemed necessary or appropriate by The Crown of the East Kingdom or by The Crown or Law of the Kingdom with which the treaty is established.
 - e. Once signed by the above listed parties, a copy of the treaty will be kept on file with the Kingdom Seneschal.
 - f. Treaties may only be amended or revoked by following the same procedures outlined above.
 - g. Treaties may not be enacted, amended, or revoked at any time when there are fewer than four Royals in the East Kingdom.
 - h. Treaties may be renewed when there are fewer than four Royals in the East Kingdom, provided that no changes are made.
7. The Crown designates Their Heirs as Prince and Princess of The Crown Principality of Tir Mara as well as Prince and Princess of the East. This designation is ceremonial in nature, and does not confer any ability to warrant subordinate officers, proclaim banishments, or bestow armigerous awards, without specific Crown approval for specific recipients. During the period between Their Coronation and The Crown Tourney to select Their successors, the Monarchs will serve as Regents of The Crown Principality of Tir Mara.

B. Crown Tourney

1. Eligibility
 - a. Gentles may enter a Crown Tourney only as couples, with one entrant the combatant and the other the consort. A gentle may only be part of one entrant couple and may be neither champion nor consort for any other gentle, save that the gentles comprising any entrant couple may champion each other. (Said gentles hereinafter referred to as a combatant couple.)
 - b. No gentle will enter a Crown Tourney without intending an honorable attempt to compete for The Crown.
 - c. All entrants must be acceptable to The Crown.
 - d. All entrants must be at least eighteen years of age.
 - e. Each entrant must be a Society member with access to Pikestaff at his/her residence, and must be able to provide proof of Society membership to The Crown or Their designated representative.
 - f. Each entrant must have resided in the East Kingdom for at least one year immediately prior to The Crown Tourney and must be able to demonstrate reasonable levels of participation in diverse activities in the Kingdom during that period. If an entrant does not meet this requirement, but is able to demonstrate to The Crown's satisfaction by his/her own words or by recommendation of peers of the Kingdom that s/he has sufficient familiarity with East Kingdom Law and custom, The Crown may waive this requirement.
 - g. The Kingdom Seneschal, and the Kingdom Minister of the Lists may not enter a Crown Tourney except for the last regularly scheduled Crown Tourney held during their last terms in Office. Before participating in The Crown Tourney, the Kingdom Seneschal or Kingdom Minister of the Lists must appoint a deputy who will assume the duties of the Office at that Crown Tourney.
 - h. The Kingdom Earl Marshal may enter a Crown Tourney provided a deputy acceptable to The Crown or Their designated representative has been appointed to assume the duties of Kingdom Earl Marshal, if necessary. He must appoint a marshal in charge that is acceptable to The Crown.
 - i. No Royal of the East Kingdom or of any of its Principalities may enter any Crown or Coronet Tourney.
 - j. All entrants must submit a letter of intent by letter or email to The Crown Prince and Princess and Kingdom Seneschal no later than thirty days prior to Crown Tourney. This requirement may be waived, on a case-by-case basis, by The Crown Prince and Princess.
 - i. The letter of intent must include the Society name, legal name, postal address, telephone number, membership number and expiration date, and years of residency for both entrants.
 - ii. If possible, letters of intent should include email addresses for both entrants.
 - k. All entrants must have Society memberships, which are valid at least through thirty days after the date of Crown Tourney. So long as the entrants meet the minimum membership requirements to enter Crown Tournament as set forth by the Governing Documents of the Society, The Crown may waive the requirement that entrants have Society memberships which are valid at least through thirty days after the date of Crown Tourney, on a case-by-case basis.

2. Withdrawal and Removal
 - a. Any entrant may withdraw from a Crown Tourney at any point in time by notifying the Kingdom Minister of the Lists. In this situation both members of the entrant couple will be eliminated from The Crown Tourney, save that in the case of a combatant couple one entrant may withdraw but the other entrant may continue, with the express permission of the withdrawing entrant.
 - b. Any entrant may be removed from a Crown Tourney at any time by the Earl Marshal or The Crown for marshallate infractions or any infractions of the Rules of the List. In this situation both entrants will be eliminated from The Crown Tourney.

C. The Succession

1. There will be two Reigns per year, with Coronations and Crown Tournaments to be scheduled as stated in Section VIII.A.
2. With the exception of Section II.C.2.a. below, if either the Sovereign or the Consort is unable to fulfill the duties of The Crown, the remaining Monarch will serve out the remainder of the Reign as Regent, holding the other Crown for His successors and delegating such duties as deemed necessary. The Regent will have all the duties and powers of The Crown, including the power to bestow awards in compliance with the Governing Documents of the Society and East Kingdom Law, as if both Monarchs were still reigning. The Regent will also, unless prohibited elsewhere in East Kingdom Law, have all the individual duties and powers of both the Sovereign and Consort, and may act in the role of the missing Sovereign or Consort in cases in which His signature, action, or approval is required.
 - a. If any Monarch is compelled by an emergency, such as call to military service, serious injury or illness, to take leave of the Throne, then upon resolution of such emergency and prior to the completion of that Monarch's reign, the Monarch may have the right to return to the Throne, resuming all duties and powers. To establish such right, the returning Monarch must provide documentation of the emergency to the Regent, if any, and the Greater Officers. A majority of the Greater Officers and Regent, if any, combined, must agree that the emergency was valid.
3. If both the Sovereign and the Consort are unable to fulfill Their duties, The Crown will pass into the keeping of the Kingdom Seneschal in trust for the Heirs, until such time as They ascend the throne. The Kingdom Seneschal will not be entitled to bestow awards, hold a Curia Regis, nor execute treaties on behalf of the East.
 - a. In the event that the Seneschal is holding The Crowns during the temporary absence of both Sovereign and Consort, pursuant to Section II.C.2.a., and if either or both Monarch(s) are able to return prior to the end of their Reign, the Seneschal shall return The Crown to the returning Monarch(s) upon request of the returning Monarch(s). The returning Monarch(s) are then entitled to resume all duties and powers.
 - b. If the Kingdom Seneschal is holding The Crown in Trust and there are not at that time Heirs, the Kingdom Seneschal will preside over the next regularly scheduled Crown Tourney. The Kingdom Seneschal will not have the authority to ban anyone from participating in that Crown Tourney who meets the requirements as set forth in East Kingdom Law and the Governing Documents of the Society. The Kingdom Seneschal will not have the right to impose any extra conditions upon participation in The Crown Tourney. The format of such a Crown Tourney will be a straight double elimination list, with the first round being random draw, and with the final round being modeled after the previous Crown Tourney.
 - c. If the Kingdom Seneschal is presiding over a Crown Tourney, letters of intent containing the information specified in Section II.B.1.i. must be filed with the Kingdom Seneschal, whether or not a letter of intent to participate in The Crown Tourney was filed with the vacant Crown. The deadline for these special letters of intent is two hours before the scheduled start time for the Tourney. The Kingdom Seneschal may not accept incomplete letters and those letters that do not completely conform with the Laws as set forth in Section II.B.1.i.
 - d. The victor of The Crown Tourney and His Consort will be crowned as Monarchs that day by whichever Royal Peer or Peers They so choose.
 - e. The new Crown will schedule a new Crown Tourney to ensure the succession as soon as possible. The new Crown Tourney need not follow the regional rotation and must be held within ninety days of The Crown's ascension to the Throne. After this special Crown Tourney to - ensure the succession, the rotation will resume as if The Crown Tourney had been held in the proper rotation.

4. If either The Crown Prince or The Crown Princess is unable to assume the throne, a new Crown Tourney must be held at the earliest possible date to ensure the Succession.
 5. If a Crown Tourney must be re-fought, any entrants responsible for the circumstances mandating the re-fighting of the Tourney will be disqualified and not be permitted to compete.

At that time the adjudicator will decide whether he will permit live testimony, and he will make that decision known. Should the adjudicator not allow live witnesses, neither the Complainant(s) nor Respondent(s) will be allowed to present live witnesses, but both may gather and present as many additional statements from witnesses or supporters as they desire. These statements need not be submitted to the adjudicator or the other party in advance, but copies must be provided at the Court of Chivalry, and they must also meet the criteria specified in Sections X.K.4.g.i. through X.K.4.g.iii.

Otherwise, the Court of Chivalry is closed to the populace, and only the above described gentles, and a stenographer if any, may be present for any part of the proceedings.
 - ii. The adjudicator will ensure that an audio recording of the Court of Chivalry is made. He will, upon written request, provide a copy of the recording to the Complainant(s) and/or Respondent(s) no more than 30 days after he has rendered his decision. Either the Complainant(s) or Respondent(s) may, at his own expense, arrange for a stenographic transcript to be made during the proceedings. Should either party make such arrangements, he will, no later than 15 days before the proceedings, inform the adjudicator, the Kingdom Seneschal, the Earl Marshal (if required to attend), and the other party of his decision and provide the identity of the stenographer or court reporter. Should either the Complainant(s) or Respondent(s) obtain such a transcript, he must provide copies to the Kingdom Seneschal, the Earl Marshal (if required to attend), and the other party within 15 days of his receipt of the transcript from the stenographer or court reporter.
 - iii. The Complainant(s) will present his complaint first. The Respondent(s) will then present his defense. Rebuttal arguments may only be made if requested by the adjudicator. If live witnesses are permitted pursuant to X.K.4.h. above, their testimony will be taken in order set by the adjudicator. At any time during the proceeding, the adjudicator may ask relevant questions of the Complainant(s), Respondent(s) and/or live witnesses if permitted.
